The Board and its Duties

The Board is collectively responsible for the long-term success of the Company and the delivery of sustainable value to shareholders and other stakeholders. Its primary function is to provide entrepreneurial leadership and direction within a framework of prudent and effective controls enabling risk assessment and management. Its key responsibilities include approving the overall strategy, risk appetite, capital and operating plans to achieve the strategic objectives it has set.

The Board also provides stewardship of the HSBC culture, conduct and behavioral standards that promote prudent risk-taking and fair treatment of customers. It oversees Management's formulation of policies and processes to promote fair practices and high standards of business conduct.

In discharging its responsibilities, the Board, among other things, takes into account its constitution ("Constitution"), the relevant and applicable regulatory requirements and guidelines, as revised from time to time, to safeguard the customers' interests.

The Board's Terms of Reference ("TOR") set out its role and responsibilities as well as matters reserved for its oversight and/or approval. These include strategic plans, operating plans, risk appetite, performance targets, appointment or termination of any director and any member of Management, material and capital expenditure, financial reporting and commitments, shareholder engagement and transactions, and risk management.

The Board ensures that corporate governance frameworks and systems are in place across the Group and that they remain relevant and effective.

The Board in its regular scheduled meetings monitors the performance of the business and Management as well as key activities and the consideration of significant business proposals, amongst other things. All directors are required to act objectively in discharging their duties, and in the interests of the Company.

Where a director has a personal interest in a matter that may conflict with the director's duties to the Company, the director is required to disclose the conflict, recuse himself from the discussion of the matter and abstain from voting on the matter.

Directors' Induction and Continuous Development

Upon appointment, new directors are given a comprehensive and tailored induction, which includes materials on a director's duties and obligations, the TOR of the Board and Board Committees, and relevant HSBC Group policies. As part of the induction, new directors meet with key senior executives and receive briefings on the Company's business, operations, regulatory changes on industry specific issues, risk management, and governance practices.

All directors are given appropriate training on a continuing basis. Directors attend internal and external conferences, as well as briefings given by in-house subject-matter experts and, where possible, external programmes run by professional bodies. In addition, executive directors have access to training programmes for employees. Directors may also request training on specific topics of interest.

Training topics covered in 2022 included global insurance, distribution channel, health and wealth employees benefits, product and rebranding strategy, people, culture and workforce, legal and compliance framework and management, risk management, customer experience management, cyber security, environmental risk management, general insurance run-off risk, net promoter score, climate risk and operational risk.

Annually, the directors are given updates on key HSBC policies. At quarterly Board and board committee meetings, directors are briefed on matters relating to risk management including financial crime risk and regulatory compliance risk, the Company's culture and behavioral standards and on customer experience.

The Board evaluates the effectiveness of the training programmes to ensure that the Company is equipping directors with the appropriate knowledge to perform their duties.

Board Delegation

The Board has delegated certain duties to two board committees while retaining overall oversight. The committees are the Audit Committee and Risk Committee. These board committees have been constituted in accordance with the CG Regulations. Each board committee has written TOR which set out the committee's responsibilities. The TOR of the committees and the effectiveness of the committees are reviewed annually. Any change to the TOR is subject to the Board's approval. Each committee provides a report of its activities and the minutes of its meeting to the Board at least quarterly.

As allowed under the CG Regulations, the Board performs the responsibilities of a nominating committee and remuneration committee based on exemption granted by MAS in March 2021. The Board has not established a Board executive committee.

The Board delegates day-to-day management of the business and implementation of strategy to the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"). The CEO is supported by her management of the Company by recommendations and advice from the Executive Committee, comprising members of senior management that include business and functional heads.

Meeting Attendance

The Board has seven meetings, and each of the Board Committees have four scheduled meetings, annually. Additional meetings are convened when required. Directors are provided with comprehensive information related to the agenda items in a timely manner. Management has an obligation to supply the Board with complete, adequate information in a timely manner. Information provided includes board papers and related materials, background or explanatory information relating to matters to be brought before the Board, and copies of budgets, forecasts and monthly internal financial statements, with material variances between projections and actuals. Information provided and discussed on an ongoing basis at board meetings includes financial, business, risk, operational, human resources and regulatory updates.

Board's Access to Information

Directors are also equipped with secure access to electronic Board and Board Committee meeting materials. Any additional material or information requested by the Board is furnished promptly by Management and/or Company Secretary. Copies of all Board and board committee minutes are distributed to directors with the papers at every scheduled Board meeting. These are also available to directors at all times via the Company Secretary. All deliberations and decisions of the Board and board committees are minuted including any concerns raised by the independent directors and maintained by the Company Secretary.

The Constitution of the Company provides for a director to participate in a meeting via telephonic or video conference where exigencies prevent the director from attending the meeting in person. Company Secretary

The Company Secretary attends all Board meetings and prepares minutes of the Board and Board Committees' proceedings. He/she assists the Chair to ensure that appropriate Board procedures are followed and that applicable regulations are complied with. Under the direction of the Chair, he/she assists with the information flow between the Board and management. He/she is responsible for the preparation of the Corporate Governance Report, and for facilitating the orientation of new Directors and their professional development as required. The Board's approval is required for the appointment and termination of the Company Secretary.

The Board adopts, assesses and reviews the HSBC Group's Subsidiary Accountability Framework - which is a HSBC Group's Corporate Governance framework - and reviews HSBC Group's risk type framework regularly.

Culture and Conduct and Code of Ethics

As part of the HSBC Group, the Company has adopted HSBC values, which are aimed at promoting and maintaining high levels of professional conduct in the business. These values emphasize, among others, integrity, honesty and proper conduct at all times, both with respect to internal dealings and external transactions. All employees of the Company are required to undergo training on the HSBC values and such values are inculcated throughout the Company through the performance management system, where employees are assessed not only on what they have done, but whether their behaviors were aligned to the HSBC values.

The Company has established guidelines for assessing and handling customer complaints and properly documenting the assessment outcome for each complaint. The Management reviews regular reports on customer complaints and highlights material complaints to the Board.

The Board and Senior Management observe the Guidelines on Individual Accountability and Conduct issued by the Authority by implementing the relevant requirements.

Board Composition

Annually, the Board assesses its size and composition and each director's independence.

The Board has assessed that each director remains fit and proper and qualified for the position of Director and contributes to the collective skills, experience and knowledge of the Board. Collectively, the Directors have experience in banking, insurance, finance and management, providing the core competencies that are relevant to the Company's business and contributing to the effective oversight of the Company's affairs. After taking into account the Company's scope and nature of business and operations, the Board considers a board size of up to six members is appropriate for overseeing the Company's affairs and for progressive renewal of the Board. Succession planning is an ongoing process. The Board will continue to assess the board size and the skills and expertise required to provide effective stewardship of the Company.

In assessing each director's independence, the Board considers each director's profile, tenure on the Board as well as his responses in questionnaires. The questionnaires are designed for assessing a director's independence based on the criteria in the CG Regulations and CG Guidelines and whether he/she is a fit and proper person for office based on the MAS Guidelines on Fit and Proper Criteria.

Notwithstanding that the Chairman is non-independent, to ensure that there is a strong element of independence, a lead independent non-executive Director has been appointed. In addition, the Company is in the process of appointing an additional independent non-executive director so that independent directors will form a majority of the Board. The lead independent director leads the independent directors during Board meetings to raise relevant queries and ensure that there is a check and balance between the Board and senior management. He also provides feedback on the performance of the Chairman and Management from time to time.

The role of the independent non-executive Directors is to support the development of strategy, oversee risk, hold management to account and ensure the executive Director is discharging responsibilities properly, while creating the right culture to encourage constructive challenge.

Each director's tenure on the Board is less than nine years. Page 9 sets out the Board's assessment of directors' independence.

The Chair and the Chief Executive Officer

The roles of the Chair and the CEO are separate and are held by unrelated individuals.

Mr Alistair John Chamberlain is the appointed Board Chair and his responsibilities include providing leadership to the Board, setting the agenda for Board meetings, ensuring that Directors receive timely and comprehensive information for informed deliberations, and promoting high standards of corporate governance. The Chairman promotes open and frank debates by all Directors at every Board meeting.

The Lead Independent Director

The CG Guidelines have recommended the appointment of a lead independent Director where the Chair is not an independent Director. The Board has appointed Mr Yap Chee Meng as the lead independent director.

The Board's TOR sets out the responsibilities between the Chairman, the CEO and the Lead Independent Director.

Selection and Nomination of Directors

The Board performs the functions of a nominating committee based on the exemption granted by MAS, whose main responsibilities include:

- (i) identifying and evaluating candidates for the Board and Board Committees;
- (ii) assessing the independence of Directors;
- (iii) reviewing the size and composition of the Board and Board Committees;
- (iv) evaluating the performance of the Board, Board Committees and each director; and
- (v) reviewing the nomination, appointment and reasons for the resignation of Directors and the CEO, CFO, Chief Risk Officer ("CRO"), COO, appointed actuary, certifying actuary, Head of Internal Audit and the Head of Compliance.

The criteria applied by the Board in identifying and evaluating candidates include (i) compliance with the CG Regulations requirements on independence and composition for Board and board committees; (ii) whether the candidate is a fit and proper person for the office and is qualified for office, taking into account inter alia, the candidate's experience, capabilities and skills; (iii) whether the candidate has the appropriate knowledge and skills that the Board and board committee members require to discharge their responsibilities effectively ("skills matrix"); and (iv) whether the candidate will be able to allocate sufficient time to discharge their responsibilities effectively.

In recommending the appointment of executive and non-executive Directors to the Board, the Board seeks to ensure that these Directors fulfill their criteria and skill sets which are aligned with the strategic direction and emerging challenges faced by the Company.

As part of the fit and proper assessment, the Company conducts vetting checks which include credit bureau, litigation and blacklist searches. MAS approvals, where required, will also be obtained.

The Board in considering whether the candidate would be able to allocate sufficient time, had set a limit on listed companies' directorships. Generally, a Director who has full-time employment in any organisation shall have appointments in no more than three listed companies, while directors who do not have any full-time employment shall have appointments in no more than six listed companies.

Independence of Directors

The independence of a director is determined based on the criteria set out in the CG Regulations and the CG Guidelines. The CG Regulations provide that a director is considered independent if he is independent from management and business relationships and the substantial shareholder and if he has not served on the Board for a continuous period of nine years or more. The Board made the following independence assessments in May 2023:

- a. Alistair JOHN CHAMBERLAIN is independent from management and business relationships and non-independent from substantial shareholders, namely (i) HSBC plc; (ii) HSBC Asia Holdings Limited, (iii) HBAP; and (iv) INAH (collectively “substantial shareholders”);
- b. HO Lee Yen is non-independent from management relationships and the substantial shareholder and is independent from business relationships; and
- c. Babak NIKZAD ABBASABADI, YAP Chee Meng and Professor CHIA Kee Seng are independent from management and business relationships and the substantial shareholders.

With three independent directors, namely Mr Yap Chee Meng, Mr Babak Nikzad Abbasabadi and Prof Chia Kee Seng, the Company has satisfied the requirement under the CG Regulations that where a substantial shareholder holds 50% or more of the share capital of the voting power in an insurer incorporated in Singapore, at least one-third of directors must be independent.

Each of the directors are subject to re-election at the Annual General Meeting (“AGM”). In considering their re-appointments, the Board conducted its annual review to assess (i) the independence status of each Director, (ii) whether each Director remained a fit and proper person and qualified for office, (iii) each Director’s attendance, time commitment and contribution, and (iv) the composition of the Board against the skills matrix. Prior to the Board meeting, the directors completed fit and proper declarations confirming their fit and proper status. The Board had concluded that each director was fit and proper for the position of director on the basis of their assessment, their individual contributions to deliberations at Board and committee meetings, their fit and proper declarations and results of various searches including credit bureau, litigation and blacklist searches conducted on each director.

Mr Wong Kee Joo and Ms Kathleen Gan Chieh Huey, who plan to step down from the Board, were not part of the latest Board assessment. Both are non-independent and non-executive Directors. There has been no change to their status since the last review in May 2022.

Board Performance

The Board performs an annual assessment of its own effectiveness as a whole and that of its committees. Each director participates and evaluates the performance of the Board and each board committee separately based on a set of performance criteria adopted from HSBC Group which includes quality of risk management, adequacy of internal controls, board culture and behaviour and attendance of directors at Board and board committee meetings as well as the contribution by the Chair. Policies exist whereby if the Board is deliberating upon any matter that involves a member, including his/her performance, that member would not participate in the discussion and/or recuse himself/herself from the discussion to avoid conflicts of interest. The results of these collective self-assessments are reviewed and discussed at the Board. The assessment results are used constructively to discuss improvement opportunities for the Board and board committees.

REMUNERATION MATTERS (Principles 6 to 8, MAS Guidelines)

The Board performs the role of a remuneration committee based on the exemption granted by MAS, which key responsibilities include the review of (i) the remuneration framework of non-executive Directors and key management personnel, and (ii) the remuneration packages for key management personnel.

Remuneration of Employees

The Company's performance and pay strategy underpinned by the HSBC Group's Remuneration Strategy and principles, aims to competitively reward long-term sustainable performance.

The Company aims to do this by attracting, motivating and retaining the very best people, regardless of gender, ethnicity, age, disability or any other factor unrelated to performance or experience. The strategy supports the long-term interests of the Company and its stakeholders, which includes the customers and the communities the Company serves, the shareholder and the regulators. The strategy is underpinned by the principles below, designed to support a fair and appropriate pay and performance approach, whilst recognising the need for flexibility in a hybrid workplace. These include.

- Ensuring that the decisions made are fair, appropriate and free from bias. Managers are encouraged to challenge their assessment by questioning whether it is objective and based on facts;
- Rewarding and recognising our people for sustainable performance and values-aligned behaviour upholding our refreshed purpose and values. As such, subject to local law, employees receive a behaviour rating as well as a performance rating to ensure performance is assessed not only on what is achieved, but also on how it is achieved;
- Supporting a culture of continuous feedback through manager and employee empowerment and creating a culture where employees can fulfil their potential, gain new skills and develop their careers for the future;
- Supporting a culture of continuous feedback through manager and employee empowerment and creating a culture where employees can fulfil their potential, gain new skills and develop their careers for the future;
- Delivering a balanced, simple and transparent total reward package that supports employee well-being; and
- Ensuring compliance with relevant regulation across all our countries and territories.

Based on these principles and promoting sound and effective risk management while supporting business objectives, the approach to determining remuneration is based on the following objectives:

- Offering a competitive total reward package. This includes market competitive fixed pay levels for the role, skills and experience required by the business, whilst ensuring our employees are able to meet their basic day-to-day needs;
- Maintaining an appropriate balance between fixed pay, variable pay and employee benefits, taking into consideration an employee's seniority, role, individual performance and the market. We are informed, but not driven by market position and practice;
- Ensuring variable pay is determined against a balanced scorecard of relevant financial and non-financial objectives, including appropriate risk and compliance objectives, differentiated by performance and adherence to the HSBC values;
- Being able to adjust variable pay upwards for positive conduct and downwards for negative conduct;
- Offering employee benefits that support the mental, physical and financial health of a diverse workforce, appropriate at the local market level and supportive of HSBC's commitment to employee well-being;

- Promoting employee share ownership through variable pay deferral or voluntary enrolment in an all-employee share plan;
- Linking reward packages to performance and behaviour with no bias towards an individual's ethnicity, gender, age, or any other characteristic; and
- Providing career planning tools to help employees thinking about future roles and capabilities which they may require, and empowering managers to make appropriate decisions at key stages during the pay review process by providing them with clear guidance materials to help their decision-making.

Country senior management is responsible for the execution of the policy and ensuring the Group principles are followed and the effectiveness of the decision making is reviewed through various forums in country and through business lines including the senior management review during annual pay and performance process to ensure that there is consistency and equitable approach being applied. This is to ensure that remuneration policies do not create incentives for excessive risk taking and aggregated recommendations for all employees. The relevant information pertaining to the Company will be presented to the Board for review annually.

The Board fulfils the tasks of a Remuneration Committee outlined by CG Regulations and CG Guidelines. The remuneration framework and processes of the Company are subject to the single HSBC Group-wide framework and policy on remuneration is in line with the principles and best practices promulgated under CG Reg and MAS Guidelines on Corporate Governance.

HBAP as an authorised Institution under the Banking Ordinance is required by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority's Supervisory Policy Manual CG-5 "Guideline on a Sound Remuneration System" ("Guideline") to assess whether their existing remuneration systems and policy are in line with the principles in the Guideline, independently of management and at least annually. The annual review for 2022 was commissioned externally to Deloitte LLP and the results were approved by the Remuneration Committee in April 2023. The review confirmed that HBAP's remuneration strategy as adopted from the Group is consistent with the principles set out in the Guideline.

Level and Mix of Remuneration

The Company is ultimately a wholly-owned subsidiary of HSBC plc. HSBC plc is governed in accordance with the regulations of the UK's Prudential Regulatory Authority ("PRA") and Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA"). The Group and its subsidiaries globally operate within the parameters at the highest standards. The regions and countries fully adopt the principles and frameworks established by Group which are based on the PRA and FCA remuneration rules.

The Company's remuneration is aligned to the HSBC Group's remuneration policy - HSBC Remuneration Practices and Governance - which promote sound and effective risk management and support our business objectives. It sets out the detail relating to the Group's reward strategy and framework, which is reviewed and approved on an annual basis under the Group's governance committee's including HSBC plc Remuneration Committee and its board and ultimately by its shareholders. This policy is consistently adopted by all HSBC companies in Singapore.

The HSBC Group including the Shareholder has full knowledge of the remuneration of executive and non-executive Directors and the top five key executives employed by HSBC Group.

In addition, HBAP, is part of a wider international group, HSBC plc established a local Remuneration Committee ("RemCo") in January 2018. The HBAP RemCo oversees the implementation and operation of the Group remuneration policy and framework, as approved by the HSBC Group RemCo and ensures their compliance with local regulations. In addition, as set out in the HBAP Board's ToR, the Board is responsible for overseeing the remuneration policy.

In line with HSBC Group Policy, for remuneration, we focus on both external benchmarking and internal equity.

For external benchmarking - Market benchmarks are sourced through and provide an indication of the range of pay levels and employee benefits provided by our competitors. In addition, when making pay decisions, we take into account the individual's and the Group's performance in any given year. An individual's pay will vary depending upon their performance. Remuneration includes fixed pay, variable pay, retirement plan, benefits in accordance with local market practice/prevalence, as well as long-term incentives.

Total Reward, consisting of fixed pay, variable pay, retirement plan and benefits, is the key focus of our remuneration framework. Total Compensation comprising of fixed pay and variable pay (namely annual incentive and long-term incentives) which is differentiated by performance and adherence to HSBC values.

Where employees are eligible to be considered for a discretionary variable pay award, the amount will be determined based on overall group affordability, any adjustment relating to recognition and conduct, individual performance and adherence to HSBC values.

The Company adopts a minimal share deferral policy on variable pay (starts from 10%) to which Malus applies. This is in addition to the Group's Material Risk Taker ("MRT") Policy which include a higher variable pay deferral (40% or 60%). For MRTs, their variable pay awards will be limited to 200% of fixed pay. All Group MRT awards are subject to Malus & Clawback. A local Material Risk Personnel ("MRP") policy had also been implemented for senior managers and MRP to comply with the MAS Guidelines on Individual Accountability & Conduct.

In principle, generally a higher proportion of the total compensation for senior managers is delivered in variable pay and will be more closely aligned to HSBC Group and business performance as seniority increases. All awards are subject to Malus and awards granted to employees identified as MRTs are subject to Clawback.

As set out within the HSBC remuneration policy, guaranteed minimum bonuses are only paid in exceptional circumstances for new hires and is limited to the individual's first year of employment only. The exceptional circumstances where HSBC would offer a guaranteed variable remuneration would involve a critical new hire and would also depend on factors such as the seniority of the individual, whether the new hire candidate has any competing offers and the timing of the hire during the performance year.

As set out in the HSBC Remuneration Policy and Reward Strategy, the remuneration decisions are made based on a combination of business results, performance against objectives set out in performance scorecards, general individual performance of the role and adherence to the HSBC values, business principles, Group Policies and procedures and Global Standards. The variable pay pool also takes into consideration the performance against metrics in the Group Risk Appetite Statement and conduct framework.

Variable pay is awarded to the employees on a discretionary basis and dependent upon Group, business and individual performance, which are based on both financial and non-financial factors consistent with the medium- to long-term strategy, stakeholder interests and adherence to HSBC values. Assessment of performance is based on clear and relevant financial and non-financial objectives set within a performance scorecard framework.

Non-financial factors are also considered throughout the performance management process including objective setting, Everyday Performance & Development ("EPD") process, and year-end assessment and review.

In addition, Individual behaviours such as non-compliance with dealing codes, personal misconduct, and individual involvement (either directly or indirectly) in notable and reportable incidents identified during the year are factors that are taken into consideration in determining adjustments to variable pay. For material events, such adjustments can be made at Group or business unit level. As further underlined in the HSBC Employee Recognition and Conduct Framework, the situations leading to negative variable pay adjustment include:

- Failing to complete Global Mandatory Training Trimester 2 module ("GMT") by the due date: a 10% conduct adjustment will be applied and automatically transferred into the pay review system as it has a medium severity; and
- All types of Personal Conduct Cases ("PCC"): A "risk severity rating" and related "individual misconduct rating" will be determined and inform the outcomes which will be automatically transferred into the pay review system.

Performance management is a shared and continuous responsibility between an employee and their manager. It involves setting clear performance objectives relevant to the role, providing regular feedback and recognition, assessing performance and behaviour, and coaching and supporting employees to perform to the best of their ability. This means having frequent check-ins on progress with performance objectives, behaviours and development goals, and adjusting objectives when necessary.

In objective setting conversation, it is manager's responsibility to ensure employee understand that performance assessment is based on demonstrated behaviours in line with HSBC values and conduct expectations, as well as successful completion of objectives and other activities in their day-to-day role – both 'what' and 'how' performance is delivered – and that employees will receive both a performance and a behaviour rating at year-end.

It is also the responsibility of the first line of defence, Business units, to determine if objectives and/or assessments are fit for purpose or if updates are required based on their expert observation/review of individual performance documents.

The Company follows the Group Consequence Management Framework (“GCMF”).

The GCMF is a global framework that provides consistency in the application of disciplinary actions and reward sanctions based on misconduct risk level applicable to all HSBC employees globally. The severity of the misconduct level determines the disciplinary actions and performance & pay consequences (in accordance with table below) to be applied for all conduct breaches including regulatory, policy or information security breaches.

Where misconduct arises, it is handled through the guidance provided within Personal Conduct Case ('PCC') framework. This guidance provides an overview for Line Managers, HR and Risk Stewards on how performance and reward outcomes for PCC cases are determined. When determining performance and reward outcomes for PCC cases, a 'risk severity rating' and related 'individual misconduct rating' will inform the outcomes within the framework.

In addition, clear message is delivered to employees on impact of breaches as part of reward communications via pay statements.

Disclosure on Remuneration

As set out above, the Company's remuneration is aligned to HSBC Group's remuneration policy and practices. HSBC Group including the Shareholder has full knowledge of the remuneration of executive Director and non-executive Directors employed by HSBC Group and top five key executives.

Remuneration of independent non-executive Directors

The remuneration for independent non-executive Directors in 2022 is in line with the HSBC Group's remuneration framework for independent directors:

Basic annual retainer fees	Amount
Board	SGD55,000
Lead Independent Non-Executive Director	SGD68,750
Additional Chair fees for:
Audit Committee	SGD15,000
Risk Committee	SGD15,000
Additional Committee member fees for:
Audit Committee	SGD10,000
Risk Committee	SGD10,000

Remuneration of Key Executives

The Board is also of the view that given the sensitive and confidential nature of the CEO and employees' remuneration, detailed disclosure on the remuneration of each of these individuals is not in the best interests of the Company. Since the Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the HSBC Group, providing such remuneration details will prejudice the Company's interests in relation to its competitors, given the highly competitive environment in the financial industry where poaching of executives is common place.

There is no employee of the Company who is a substantial shareholder of the Company or is an immediate family member of a Director or the CEO or a substantial shareholder of the Company, and whose remuneration exceeds SGD100,000 during 2022.

Remuneration of Executive Directors and Non-Executive Directors employed by HSBC Group

Executive directors and non-executive directors employed by HSBC Group do not receive any remuneration or fees for their services as directors for the Company. The remuneration for such directors is delivered in their capacity of employees of the HSBC Group and is decided in line with HSBC Group's remuneration policy.

No disclosure is made on the Company's directors' interests in HSBC Holdings plc shares as there are no public shareholders of the Company whose interests need to be protected through the disclosure of the directors' interests. In addition, in the case of executive directors and non-executive directors of the Company who are employed by HSBC Group, share options and discretionary awards of shares granted to them are considered part of their remuneration package and, as mentioned above, such disclosure would prejudice the Company's interests in relation to its competitors.

ACCOUNTABILITY AND AUDIT (Principles 9 to 10, MAS Guidelines)

Board Risk Committee

The Board has ultimate responsibility for risk governance including approving the Company's risk appetite and the effective management of risk. The Company's management advises the Board on risk appetite and its alignment with strategy, risk governance and internal controls, high-level risk related matters, and compliance with the guidelines on risk management.

The Board established a Risk Committee on 29 March 2022. As at the date of this report, the Risk Committee comprises four members, all of whom (including the Risk Committee Chairman) are non-executive directors. The members are Ms Kathleen Gan Chieh Huey (Risk Committee Chairman), Mr Yap Chee Meng, Mr Babak Nikzad Abbasabadi and Professor Chia Kee Seng are appropriately qualified to discharge their responsibilities and have the relevant technical financial expertise in risk disciplines or business experience. The Board had not appointed any non-director with specific expertise to the Risk Committee.

Under the terms of reference of the Risk Committee, it is responsible for the oversight of risk-related matters including risk governance and internal control systems (other than internal controls over financial reporting). The Risk Committee is responsible, inter alia, for reviewing and providing independent challenge on risk management reports, assessing the risk profile of the Company and how the risks arising from the Company's businesses are controlled, monitored and mitigated, for focusing on current and forward-looking risks to assess the Company's vulnerability and resiliency to potential risks, reviewing the effectiveness of the Company's conduct framework designed to deliver fair outcomes for customers and reviewing and satisfying itself that the Company's stress testing framework, governance and related internal controls are robust.

To assist the Risk Committee in discharging its duties, the Board has also appointed a CRO to oversee the risk management function.

HSBC's Risk Management Framework ("RMF") describes the approach to managing risk and applies to all types of risks – Financial Risk and Non-financial risks. Risk management starts with a strong risk culture, clear accountability and a formally defined risk appetite that articulates the level and types of risks that are acceptable to achieve our strategic objectives. Risk appetite shapes our requisite controls and dictates behaviors. We identify risks to our business and assess materiality by considering their likelihood and potential customer, financial, reputational and regulatory impacts. The risks are aggregated and reported to highlight material risks and support good decision making. Where necessary, risks are escalated to senior management and risk governance committees to facilitate management decisions, challenge and remediation.

Day-to-day risk management activities are the responsibility of senior managers of individual businesses, supported by global functions as described under the "3 Lines of Defence" model. The model delineates management accountabilities and defines who is responsible to do what to identify, assess, measure, manage, monitor and mitigate risks, encouraging collaboration and enabling efficient coordination of risk and control activities.

The Company uses four key risk management tools to promote strong enterprise-wide risk management: Risk Appetite Statement (“RAS”), Risk Map, Emerging Risks and Stress Testing. Risk Appetite Profile and Risk Map provide information on our current and projected Risk Profile for awareness and to inform decision making. Emerging Risks and Stress Testing provide information on the risk landscape that are impacting or could impact our Risk Profile. Enterprise Risk Reports generated by these tools are provided to the Risk Management Meetings (“RMM”) and routinely to the Board for information. These consistent and integrated standard reports are used at the RMM to ensure appropriate monitoring and cascading of information is achieved.

As required under the MAS Guidelines on Risk Management Practices – Board and Senior Management, the Board has approved a RAS and RMF for the Company. An update on effectiveness of Risk Management function is provided to the Risk Committee annually with an overview of governance structure, framework for managing enterprise-wide risks and capacity and capability of resources within risk function to fulfill these responsibilities.

The Risk Management function is independent, with clearly delineated authority and responsibilities. Moreover, a risk management report is presented by the CRO to the Risk Committee at every meeting, which, in addition to updates on management of various financial and non-financial risks provide insight into effectiveness of internal controls.

Financial risks are the risk of a financial loss as a result of business activities. These are actively managed to maximise shareholder value and profits and include treasury risk, retail credit risk, wholesale credit risk, traded risk and strategic risk.

Non-financial risks are the risk of loss resulting from people, inadequate or failed internal processes, data or systems or external events. These arise due to day-to-day operations, while taking financial risks and include financial reporting and tax risk, resilience risk, financial crime risk, people risk, regulatory compliance risk, legal risk and model risk.

All risks typically have a risk steward at a country, regional and global level who is accountable for the holistic assessment and oversight of that risk. The responsibility of the risk steward includes defining and implementing the more detailed day to day approach of managing the specific risk. Further, the accountability also includes assessment and oversight of climate risk, and working with businesses to ensure appropriate climate risk frameworks are embedded.

The Own Risk and Solvency Assessments is a key risk management tool assessing of the overall solvency needs of the Company considering its internal Capital position. In making the assessment it has regard to the Company’s business plan, its overall strategic plan and the Company’s own view of the key risks it is facing, both now and in the future together with the controls / risk mitigations against these risks.
